Kelly Campbell

Kelly Campbell is a senior on the DePaul University Women's Basketball Team. Campbell is an outstanding student-athlete on and off the field. She has made a positive impact on the lives of children and the homeless in the Chicago area. Sometimes unbeknownst to the DePaul athletic department, Campbell can be found volunteering at a local soup kitchen or school.

Campbell has a passion for spending time with children and the homeless. She regularly spends time at the Ann Seton Soup and Sandwich Kitchen preparing and serving food to the homeless. If she is not at the soup kitchen, Campbell is known to teach basketball fundamentals at clinics run by the Chicago Park District and ICSJ school, interact with children at the St. Vincent DePaul Center toy drive, speak to 3rd through 5th grade students at UC-Charter School about the importance of a good education, or facilitating Special Olympics qualification competitions for the Special Olympics' 50th Anniversary at Soldier Field.

Campbell has also been a leader on two Service Immersion Trips; one to Guatemala and one to the Dominican Republic. Both trips allowed her to help provide homes for families with children whose family structure has either deteriorated or is nonexistent. Campbell performed manual labor services to improve the living conditions of the children.

Campbell is pursuing a degree in Health Sciences. She currently has a 3.682 GPA.

Jordan Johnson

Jordan Johnson was a senior on the University of Central Florida (UCF) Football Team. Since day one at UCF, Johnson established himself as a leader and role model within the Central Florida community. He prides himself on being a servant leader, especially with the youth. Johnson regularly visits local Orlando and Seminole County elementary schools, the Boys and Girls Clubs of Central Florida, and the Ronald McDonald house. Johnson, along with his teammates, served as leaders in raising funds and collecting toys for this past Christmas toy drive. In fact, the toy drive collected over 500 toys and raised over $3,000 for local teenagers. Johnson also volunteered time during the holiday season for the Knight of Giving event; where he assisted 17 local homeless elementary students shop for toys and necessities.

Johnson's other leadership and community outreach activities include Relay For Life to raise money for cancer research, Hash tag Lunch Bag to feed the homeless in downtown Orlando, serving as a "buddy" (mentor) for children and adults with special needs at the Dreamplex Football Clinic, and volunteering for Habitat For Humanity. Johnson has led the charge for all UCF athletes to complete 5,000 community service hours this year. Johnson has done his fair share of hours, but he is not done yet.

Johnson has become a real UCF role model for many children in the Central Florida community and a true leader for UCF Athletics. Johnson graduated in December with a degree in Human Communications. His final GPA was 3.38.
